Bio Serve NZ Ltd is a medical sales company with a specialised medical devices service & repair division.

Bio Serve has been servicing the New Zealand healthcare industry for over ten years. Evolving from a bio medical engineering company established in 1997, Bio Serve has a dedicated national medical sales representative, customer service phone and email support, and the technical support of our service and repair division.

Bio Serve originated with the aim of providing fast, efficient and reliable service at affordable rates, backed up by friendly and experienced customer service.

We currently service to the following organisations:

- Hospitals,
- Clinics
- Surgery Centres
- Doctors Offices
- Physical Therapists
- Importers,
- Aged Care Organisations

Our Bio Medical Engineers can be based on-site at your premises or are available on-call to respond to your needs as they arise.

Safety Testing

All instruments are tested for safety on routine service visits to ensure earth bonding, insulation resistance and that earth leakage values are within acceptable limits.

A comprehensive on site electrical equipment safety testing service is also available – please call for details.
